Introduction

My name is Ridhi Sharma. I was born and raised in Delhi though my family roots are from Rajasthan. We are a loving family of five members. My father works in retail and mother had devoted her life to her profession in healthcare until she passed away in the year of 2022. My other two elder sisters are also working professionals in corporate sector.

I began my academic journey from Prince Public School (Budh Vihar) from where I finished my high school. I then decided to pursue my graduation (BA) from Bharati College, Delhi University. After completing my graduation, I then decided to turn my teenage part time job, which was occasionally tutoring, into a serious career choice. Then I enrolled myself into B.ED. Programme in SGT University, Gurugram, from year 2021-2023. I am now pursuing master in political science from Jamia Milia Islamia, IGNOU, New Delhi.

To me teaching is just not a profession but a responsibility towards our society to help young children building their future. I am eagerly looking forward for a platform where I can contribute to this profession to my fullest.
